PREFACE

On January 1, 1956, the Library of Congress Catalog—Books: Authors was expanded to include not only Library of Congress printed catalog cards but also cards representing titles with 1956 or later imprints reported to the National Union Catalog by other North American libraries, together with locations of all such titles reported to the National Union Catalog. In order to make clear its changed content, the name of the Catalog was changed to The National Union Catalog, a Cumulative Author List with the July 1956 issue. The publication is a part of the series of Library of Congress catalogs issed in cumulative pattern.

This expansion constitutes a major step toward providing a guide to the library resources of the United States and toward making generally available in book form information previously found only in the card catalog in the Library of Congress hitherto known as the National Union Catalog. It is expected that the value of this expanded work, for research use and for library planning, will be felt immediately and will increase greatly in the years to come.

The planning of this expansion was prompted by recommendations of the Association of Research Libraries and the American Library Association Board on Resources of American Libraries (since 1957 the Committee on Resources of American Libraries of the A. L. A. Resources and Technical Services Division). Discussions and correspondence in 1955 between the Library of Congress, the Board, its Committee on the National Union Catalog, and finally with regional representatives have resulted in decisions leading to publication in the present form. The success of The National Union Catalog will depend on the continuing effort of many cooperating American libraries.

INTRODUCTION

History. The Library of Congress embarked upon its present program of publishing its catalogs in book form with A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards, which was issued under the auspices of the Association of Research Libraries and published in 1942–46 by Edwards Brothers, Inc., Ann Arbor, Michigan. In March 1946 Halsey William Wilson, in a pamphlet entitled A Proposed Plan for Printing Library of Congress Cards in Cumulative Book Form, recommended the publication of current supplements to this Catalog which should be cumulated on a plan similar to that of the Cumulative Book Index. The Library of Congress adopted this proposal with some modifications, and in 1947 began publishing, in nine monthly issues, three quarterly cumulations, and an annual cumulation, its Cumulative Catalog of Library of Congress Printed Cards. No annual cumulation for the year 1947 was issued inasmuch as all the cards for this year appeared in the Supplement to the Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards, published by Edwards Brothers, Inc., in 1948. From that time on there has been available a complete and current author catalog in book form of the holdings of the Library of Congress insofar as they are represented by printed cards. With the annual cumulation for 1949 the title was changed to The Library of Congress Author Catalog. In 1953 a cumulation in 24 volumes covering the years 1948–1952 was released under the title The Library of Congress Author Catalog 1948–1952. With the issue of January 1953 the title was changed to Library of Congress Catalog—Books: Authors. The title changes reflect the expanding bibliographical program of the Library of Congress, the first being necessitated by the decision to issue a catalog arranged alphabetically by subject content (The Library of Congress Subject Catalog, 1950, 1951, and 1952) and the second by the decision to issue the catalog in parts according to the types of materials cataloged and according to anticipated patterns of effective use.

In response to recommendations of the A.L.A. Board on Resources of American Libraries and the Association of Research Libraries, beginning with the January 1956 issue the Library of Congress Catalog—Books: Authors was expanded to include, in addition to the former coverage of LC printed cards, entries for monographic publications of 1956 and later years reported to the National Union Catalog, and to record the holdings of such publications reported by some 500 North American libraries. With the July 1956 issue the title of this publication was changed to The National Union Catalog, a Cumulative Author List. The comprehensive Library of Congress Catalogs now include: The National Union Catalog, a Cumulative Author List; Books: Subjects; Motions Pictures and Filmstrips (the 1953 issues had the title Films); and *Music and Phonorecords. The publication of other parts is contemplated.

Purpose. The National Union Catalog, 1953–1957 is the second quinquennial cumulation of a catalog that is designed as a current and cumulative continuation of A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards and its supplements. It represents the works cataloged by the Library of Congress and by the libraries contributing to its cooperative cataloging program during the period of its coverage. In addition, it includes entries for monographic publications issued in 1956 and thereafter reported by about 500 North American libraries and not represented by LC printed cards. It constitutes a reference and research tool for a large part of the world's production of significant books as acquired and cataloged by the Library of Congress and a number of other North American libraries. It indicates, in every case, at least one library where the publication is held and for imprints since 1956 additional locations, and serves thereby, at least for these imprints, as a National Union Catalog. It serves also, by indicating the LC card number, as a tool for the ordering of LC printed cards. It is supplemented by the other parts of The Library of Congress Catalogs.

This cumulation supersedes the four annual cumulations of the Library of Congress Catalog—Books: Authors and The National Union Catalog for 1953 to 1956, and the monthly and quarterly cumulations for 1957. It is continued and kept current by monthly issues and quarterly and annual cumulations.

Scope. The National Union Catalog contains entries for books, pamphlets, maps, atlases, periodicals, and other serials. It also includes entries for reproductions of such materials. The Library of Congress printed cards include all languages written in the Roman, Cyrillic, Greek, Gaelic, or Hebraic alphabets. Catalog entries submitted by other libraries for monographic materials of 1956 or later imprint date in the Roman alphabet are included, also such entries for Greek and Gaelic titles, though in transliteration. It contains entries for all cards printed by the Library of Congress during the period covered, regardless of the date of the publications represented. Revised Library of Congress printed cards are included, though they may already be represented in their unrevised form in A Catalog of Books Represented by Library of Congress Printed Cards or The Library of Congress Author Catalog.

* Another part, Maps and Atlases, was issued from 1953 to 1955. Its entries are now included in The National Union Catalog, a Cumulative Author List, 1953–1957.

Entries. The National Union Catalog contains main entries, the essential added entries, and cross references. The main entries of titles represented by LC printed cards are reproduced from the type set for the catalog cards, and they include the tracing, LC call number, Dewey Decimal class number, and card number, and, if copy is supplied by other libraries, the names of these libraries, often followed by their own call number. The traced subject headings and added entries are those assigned at the time the copy for the card was prepared, and may therefore not reflect the latest usage or latest form of entry. Similarly, the classification or call number does not always reflect changes which may have been made since the card was printed. Current usage of subject headings may be ascertained from the latest edition of Subject Headings Used in the Dictionary Catalogs of the Library of Congress and its supplements and of classification from the latest Library of Congress classification schedules; in the case of traced added entries which may have been changed, cross references from the older form to the later one have frequently been included.

Main entries for titles not represented by LC printed cards have been retyped in uniform format and have been edited for conformity of main entry and added entries in accordance with the A. L. A. Cataloging Rules and the practice of the Library of Congress. The individual contributing library may have used a different form of name or even a different entry in its own cataloging. For example, an entry submitted which reads Warsaw National Museum will appear as Warsaw. Museum Narodove; Lavant, Christine will appear under her latest name Habernig, Christine (Thonhausen); Hammer, Walter under his real name Hösterey, Walter; the Congregatio sacrorum rituum as Catholic Church. Congregatio sacrorum rituum; Noldin, Hieronymus, S. J., 1838–1922 as Noldin, Hieronymus, 1838–1922. Cross references will, where needed, lead the user from the unused form of name to the entry as chosen by the Library of Congress. The first reports received serve as the copy for the published entries. Such entries are revised before their next appearance in a cumulative issue to add pertinent bibliographical details supplied on a later report, or to change the personal or corporate entry to agree with the form established subsequently. Whenever the Library of Congress prints a card for a title represented by a report from another library, this printed card replaces the original report. All location symbols are transferred. All serials represented by LC printed cards are included. However, holdings of serial publications and serial titles not cataloged by the Library of Congress are omitted from this publication and are listed in the Library's New Serial Titles, to which bibliography the user is referred.

Added entries are made for names associated with the works, such as editors, joint authors, etc., and for titles of works published anonymously which have been entered under their authors. These added entries are prepared especially for this catalog. They contain only the more important bibliographical data, and refer to the main entries for more detailed description and locations. Even in the case of LC printed cards the added entries are not available in card form; the card numbers which are sometimes indicated are those of the main entries. Cross references (see and see also references) are included only in those cases when the entry referred to is included in the issue. The LC printed cards present numerous variations in typographical style and cataloging form because they have been printed over a period of many years and the revised reprinting of older cards does not necessarily involve changes of style according to current usage.

Wherever differences in the cataloging of sets or series of monographs by various libraries occur, no attempt has been made to bring uniformity into their cataloging. Certain titles are therefore represented by analytical cards as well as by entry under the title of the monographic set or series. The user is advised to search under the entry for the individual volume as well as under the entry for the set or series in order to find such titles and their locations.

Locations. All titles represented by LC printed cards without indication of a contributing library are held by the Library of Congress.

These titles show the LC card number, and, in all cases with the exception of law materials, the LC call number. Additional locations for these titles are indicated near the last line of the main entry by symbols. All LC printed cards prepared from cooperative copy contributed by other libraries indicate on the main entry the name of the library. An LC call number or the symbol DLC indicates that this title is also held by the Library of Congress. The symbol DLC–P4 indicates that the Library of Congress has assigned the item to its Priority Four collection and does not expect to fully catalog or to print catalog cards for it in the near future. If the catalog entry has been prepared from a DLC–P4 report, the entry used may not yet have been established in a definitive form by the Library of Congress. Such items are, however, available for use. Entries supplied by other American libraries indicate the location by symbol under the main entry. Additional locations are also indicated by symbols. These are based on the list of Symbols Used in the National Union Catalog of the Library of Congress, 6th edition, revised (Washington, 1954). Locations are shown which were reported before the close of the cumulation. In order to show additional locations which are later reported to the National Union Catalog, such titles will be reinserted in some later annual or quinquennial cumulation.

No additional locations are shown for United Nations and United States Federal and State documents. United Nations[1] and United States Federal[2] documents are held by depository libraries. State documents are held, generally, by the Library of Congress and by the State Library or the issuing agency. When National Union Catalog entries prepared for such documents from outside library reports have been replaced by Library of Congress printed cards the symbols of the reporting libraries do not appear.

The fact that a location is listed does not indicate that the title is available for interlibrary loan in the library. Certain libraries do not lend their books at all (most notable the New York Public Library), other libraries do not lend certain materials (rare books, reference works, etc). The question whether a photostat, microfilm, etc. will be available, varies also with individual libraries and with the material.

[1] For a list of United Nations depository libraries see Part 2 of the most recent April issue of the United Nations Documents Index, issued by the United Nations Library.

[2] For a list of Federal depository libraries see the most recent September issue of the Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, issued by the Superintendent of Documents.

Reporting is organized on a regional basis. Certain libraries in each region are reporting all of their holdings of 1956 or later imprints. Other libraries are reporting certain types of materials on a selective basis. Each title reported by a regional union catalog is listed, but reports of locations received through such sources are limited to a single report from a research library which may be presumed to hold the volume permanently. An exception is made when the first report received through a regional union catalog is from a non-holding library, in which case the location symbol for a holding library may be added later.

Arrangement. The National Union Catalog is arranged in a single alphabet by author, or, in cases of title entry, by title. The order of arrangement of titles under author is alphabetical, except that occasional exceptions have been made in the case of the more important or voluminous authors, where complete works and translations of complete works appear at the beginning, and in cases where a logical arrangement (for example, by date, by number, etc.) seems more helpful than a strictly alphabetical one.

Supplements. The National Library of Medicine Catalog serves in the field of medicine and related subjects as a supplement to The Library of Congress Catalogs because of the comprehensive holdings of the National Library of Medicine in these fields and because its collections supplement the holdings of the Library of Congress. The first issue, Army Medical Library Catalog Cards, April–December 1948, was published as an appendix to the Cumulative Catalog of 1948 and also as a separate. The later issues, entitled Army Medical Library Author Catalog 1949 and Armed Forces Medical Library Catalog 1950–1954 and 1955, and the National Library of Medicine Catalog 1956, are separate publications. The entries are prepared by the National Library of Medicine according to its rules and do not always agree with the entry chosen for the same author or title by the Library of Congress. However, these entries, if for 1956 or later imprints, are also included in edited form in The National Union Catalog together with the LC printed cards for works which the Library of Congress acquires and catalogs in the field of medicine.

Two other publications, the Checklist of Philippine Government Documents, 1950, compiled by a committee of the Bibliographical Society of the Philippines, and United States Atlases: A Catalog of National, State, County, City, and Regional Atlases in the Library of Congress and

Cooperating Libraries, compiled by the Map Division, supplement the Catalogs for special types of material.

Policy. The Library of Congress Catalogs, cooperative publications created and carried on in the common interest of the subscribers and the Library of Congress in the development of bibliographical tools for research, will be kept responsive to the needs and suggestions of the users. A continuing effort will be made to cultivate the potentialities and usefulness within the limits of available means.

Inquiries. The National Union Catalog is compiled and edited by the Catalog Maintenance Division of the Library of Congress. Titles reported by other libraries outside of the Cooperative Cataloging Program are edited and prepared for reproduction by the Current Imprints Section of the Union Catalog Division. Questions and suggestions of an editorial nature should be addressed to the Catalog Maintenance Division; those pertaining only to entries received from other libraries may be referred directly to the Current Imprints Section of the Union Catalog Division. Orders and business questions should be addressed to J. W. Edwards, Publisher, Inc., Ann Arbor, Michigan.

EXPLANATION OF CERTAIN MARKS AND SYMBOLS USED IN THE ENTRIES

Examples
1. Cotton weaving.
I. Taylor, Owen R.

Immediately below the physical description and any notes concerning the publication are listed the subjects with which it deals (preceded by Arabic numerals) and the names of persons and corporate entities connected with the publication (preceded by Roman numerals). These terms, including "Title" and "(Series)", are used in preparing headings for cards in library catalogs, and indicate that entries will appear in such catalogs under the title, under the name of the series, etc.

D839.Q6

The Library of Congress call number appears at the lower left corner of the entry. If the entry was prepared by the Library of Congress, the absence of a call number most frequently indicates that the publication has been assigned to its Law Library; and if the entry was prepared by another library, that the Library of Congress either did not have or had not cataloged the publication at the time the card was printed. A call number or class number preceded by a bold cross (referred to as a Maltese cross) and enclosed in curves indicates that the publication has been withdrawn from the Library's collections.

(✠ PZ4.A589R2)

The number in the middle of the last line of an entry is the Dewey Decimal classification number, which is assigned for use by libraries in classifying their holdings by that system. Decimal numbers are assigned to publications of general interest, but not to popular American and English fiction, music scores, books in the less commonly known languages, and certain other categories. Alternative Decimal numbers appear within square brackets. Decimal numbers within parentheses indicate the classification assigned to the monographic series, as distinct from that assigned to the individual monograph. To the end of 1951 these numbers were based on the 14th edition of the Decimal Classification. Since January 1952 both the 14th and 15th editions have been used in assigning numbers. If the two numbers are alike except in length, the longer number is given. If the numbers differ other than in length, both are given. In all cases, the number from the 15th edition is preceded by an asterisk.

[521]
(370.1)

*735.29 735.42

The number assigned to each card for identification, ordering, and stocking purposes appears in the lower right corner of each entry, on the same line as the numbers described above. Cards may be ordered from the Card Division most economically by using this card number. It consists of a prefix (the last two digits of the year the card was first printed) and a serial number. For special series a distinguishing abbreviation, such as A, Agr, SD, etc., is added in front of the prefix. An asterisk after the card number indicates that the publication was cataloged during the period July 1947 to December 1949 according to the then new Rules for Descriptive Cataloging. Since that time the asterisk has been omitted. A double dagger indicates entries prepared under rules for limited cataloging. "Rev", "Rev 2", etc., indicate revision of the original entry.

Many libraries participate in the cooperative cataloging program by sending catalog entries for certain publications in their collections to be printed as LC cards in the A, Agr, SD, etc., series. The name of the contributing library appears in the lower left corner of the entry. Occasionally the call number assigned to the publication in the cooperating library follows its name. If the Library of Congress has a publication for which a cooperative catalog entry has been supplied, the LC call number may sometimes be found printed in its usual place. An incomplete bracketed call number indicates that the Library of Congress holds another edition of the publication. A complete bracketed call number indicates that the Library of Congress keeps a collected set of the series. Reference to the Serial Record may be necessary in such cases to determine whether the volume cataloged is actually in the Library of Congress. A bracketed class number, together with the phrase Printed for U. S. Q. B. R., Printed for A. B. P., or Printed for U. S. Vet. Adm., indicates that the Library of Congress has cataloged the publication for the United States Quarterly Book Review or within the All Books Program or for the Veterans Administration but has not added it to its collections and does not expect to do so. Inferior brackets enclosing a subject heading on cooperative catalog entries indicate that such a heading is used by the cooperating library but not by the Library of Congress. Inferior parentheses enclosing a subject heading on cooperative catalog entries indicate that the heading is used by the Library of Congress but not by the cooperating library.

Trudy (translit. Trudy)
Upon the establishment, in 1933, of the Botanicheskiĭ institut through the union of the Botanicheskiĭ sad and the Botanicheskiĭ muzeĭ, a new series of Trudy (Acta) was begun, superseding the former series published by the earlier institutions respectively as Труды Ботанического сада (Acta Horti petropolitani) 1871– and Труды Ботанического музея (Travaux du Musée botanique) 1902–32.
The present publication comprises seven independent series: I. Флора и систематика высших растений (Flora et systematica plantae vasculares). II. Споровые растения (Plantae cryptogamae). III. Геоботаника (Geobotanica). IV. Экспериментальная ботаника (Botanica experimentalis). V. Растительное сырье (Materiae rudes plantarum). VI. Интродукция растений и зеленое строительство. VII. Морфология и анатомия растений.
The seven series are entered separately in the Library of Congress catalogue.
